Explore chaplaincy in educational settings

Degree-level unit for prospective and practising chaplains, or for any Christians working in primary, secondary or tertiary education.

23 February to 1 June 2011

Here is an introduction to chaplaincy in educational settings, a practical degree-level unit for those considering working as Christians in schools, whether as chaplains, counsellors, youth workers or teachers.

This unit by itself does not qualify students to be chaplains. ACCESS Ministries selects chaplains who are suited to the role and looks for tertiary training in at least two of the fields of theology, education and counselling.

WHEN?

6 to 9 pm on twelve Wednesday evenings from 23 February to 1 June 2011 (except 13, 20 & 27 April)

WHERE?

Whitley College, 50 The Avenue, Parkville

COVERING WHAT?

An overview for chaplains working in Primary and Secondary Schools, and Tertiary Institutions.

- Biblical modes of chaplaincy
- Children and youth in Australian society
- Child and adolescent development and spirituality
- Approaches to religious and values education
- State and private schools: Similarities and differences
- The different contexts of chaplaincy
- Pastoral care and counselling

"This was a great introduction."

"Every week was different and packed!"

"I loved hearing from chaplains about what they do"

"I realised I need further study and I learnt where to get it."

TEACHERS

The unit is co-ordinated by Rev David Fuller and uses as guest lecturers a wide range of reflective practitioners, including several school chaplains.
