

ANZAC DAY CHIFAM CHALLENGE

An idea for bringing a message of thanks, hope or love to your street this Anzac Day

AIMED AT

CHILDREN & FAMILIES

Introduction

Since the beginning of Scripture Union, we've been sharing the story of love and hope to engage communities and change lives. "God is Love", written in the sand on 26 August 1868, was the message shared with children and families holidaying at the beach in Llandudno (Wales). On Anzac Day we remember those who served and those who died in wars and conflicts around the world. This year, as we remember their sacrifice we are also thinking of those who are serving now to protect us, doctors and nurses, the police and military.

ChiFam Challenge

Today's ChiFam Challenge is for your family or household to share a message of thanks, hope and love to people in service, or those who live in your street. It might be as simple as writing "THANK YOU", or you might like to talk together about the message you want to share. You could use chalk, autumn leaves, grass clippings, flower petals, pebbles, wool, or anything you like. Write the message on your driveway or on your front lawn so people walking or driving past can see it.

What message of thanks, hope or love would you like to bring to your neighbourhood today?
