INTRODUCTION

Growing your leadership, equipping you for ministry with children & families and youth and shaping you to make a difference in God's mission. This SU Internship Program is designed to be an exciting, intense and hands-on ministry experience!

WHY

Helping young people, children and families experience God's love and Good News is at the heart of Scripture Union's ministry. Effective discipleship is a journey and is best supported through local ongoing relationships. Equipping volunteers, providing hands on ministry experience and partnering with churches are all vital.

It is an opportunity to be empowered, trained and equipped for youth work and ministry leadership – and to make a difference in the lives of children and young people. If you're interested in being part of what God is doing and want to allow Him to use you in ways you never imagined, then this internship is for you!

Our goal is to see the formation of dynamic leaders who are self-aware, innovative and missional. We hope to resource churches for effective ministry with children, young people and families. We hope to see stronger missional engagement with families. We want to encourage people of all ages to meet God daily through the Bible and prayer.

YOU WILL HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO

- Be a team member in a local school or church, participating in weekly ministry experiences
- Be a team member on MAD Camp, Beach Mission, Theos, Schools team or other SU program
- Explore theories and concepts of faith formation, mission and leadership
- Be equipped with ideas, skills and strategies for ministry, mission and community development with young people
- Support and mentor young people
- Be supported by your placement supervisor and a mentor
- Further shape and develop your ministry placement depending on your passion and interests
- Make personal connections and build relationships with other interns in your region and even across the country
- Participate in team planning, preparation, delivery and debriefing of diverse programs
- Be coached by SU, one day a week, with input from experienced leaders in mission and ministry

WHAT

This year-long internship is a partnership between you, your placement and SU's training staff. It includes hands-on ministry experience in your chosen setting, weekly training days with SU, support from a supervisor, encouragement through mentoring and the opportunity to be involved in an SU ministry.

It's a year-long ministry immersion in your church, school or placement, participating in children and family or youth ministry alongside regular gatherings with interns from other churches and placements for learning, reflection and formation.

SU will facilitate the gathering of interns from across placements throughout the year, with a mix of online, face to face at the SU office and face to face in your region, according to location. This includes weekly training and formation, 1 or 2 two-day residential intensives, assignments, reading and some online discussion.

Your placement, through your local supervisor (e.g. minister or chaplain), will facilitate your ministry experience and your ministry project. This will include exposure to various aspects of ministry in your setting, practical tasks and leadership responsibilities, reflection, guidance and support.

OUR PRIORITIES

- Formation
  - of leaders
  - of faith & spiritual disciplines
  - of ministry thinking and practise (through action-reflection)
  - of disciples who make disciples
- Equipping
  - with practical skills for ministry and mission
  - with ideas and strategies for ministry with children, youth and families
  - with theories and concepts of faith formation, mission and leadership
- Experience
  - expertise and know-how from high quality trainers
  - exposure to a range of ministry models and resources
  - supported practise in your chosen context
  - in more formalised ministry (for discerning vocation)
  - input from other Christian denominations and ministries

Part of an international movement that began in 1867 and now operates in 130+ countries, SU is a Christian not-for-profit organisation that runs a wide range of ministries with the aim to make God's Good News known to children, young people and families, and encourage people of all ages to meet God daily through the Bible and prayer. Scripture Union has a long history of training, equipping and providing resources for mission and Bible engagement. We have found internships to be a powerful way to invest in young (or not-so-young) leaders.

Interns come to SU in order to serve in Christian ministry and mission. The SU staff team aim to see interns work towards competencies in key learning areas and they recognise that a year of commitment such as this is challenging and demanding and will endeavour to provide a supportive, loving and fun environment in which interns can embark on this journey of growth and development.

TIME COMMITMENT

Approximately two days per week:

- One day per week cohort gatherings with some reading and assignment work. These will run from mid February to early December, with breaks between school terms.
- 8 hours per week placement in your church, school or other ministry. This is a minimum and may be increased if a reasonable agreement can be reached between intern and their supervisor. This will then increase your total time commitment beyond two days per week.

Plus 2 x two-day intensives and the possibility of extra conferences and day events through the year.

You'll also schedule regular supervisor (weekly or fortnightly) and mentor meetings (monthly) at mutually convenient times.

LOCATIONS & HUBS

The cohort gatherings will take place in three different forms:

1. Online via Zoom
2. In-person at the SU Office in your state
3. In 'hubs', with interns in smaller regional groups or in a larger church with multiple interns

The balance and scheduling of these three modes will be determined based mainly on the location of interns for the year (metro, regional, etc). Contact us to discuss the potential of a hub in your area. Rest assured we will not be expecting weekly travel to the city for those multiple hours' drive away.

CALENDAR

The weekly cohort gatherings will most likely be Wednesdays, approx. 9am – 3:15pm but with more specific times dependent on the mode of gathering (online, hubs, time zones, etc)

Between cohort gatherings, interns will read required and optional books and articles, as well as preparing a variety of assignments to engage in a different style of learning and better explore practical applications. Interns will also spend time with their supervisor and mentor in one-on-one conversation.

PRACTICAL ELEMENTS

- Regular placement-based responsibilities as agreed with your supervisor
- Opportunity for a ministry project – see Ministry Project below
- Participation in one SU program – MAD camp, CHAT program, SUPA club, School program, age-group or holiday camp or mission (at any time through to Jan 2024)
- Optional extra visits and involvement with ministries and events, for those who want more exposure or who would like to get involved for more experience

ASSIGNMENTS

These are included in the internship to provide opportunity for deeper learning and better integration of your learning into your ministry, not to make it a heavy year of assessment. Through the year, you'll be expected to participate in:

BOOKS AND RESOURCES

- Read the books on the required reading list
- Read and share a review of another book or podcast

DEVELOP A TIMELINE

Choose one of:

- Keep a journal of experiences and reflections through the year
- Develop a personal and reflective map of your formative life and ministry experiences

OTHER

- Participate in some interactive online discussion
- Conduct a community research listening exercise in your local ministry context

These assignments are spread throughout the year. The dates and topics for the seminars and studies will be allocated according to the group's preferences, so dates will be flexible for each individual. Some time will be given during the Wednesday gatherings to work on the above, though it's likely some extra time will be needed at home.

For students working towards qualifications, additional assessments may be required.

ON-RAMPS

There is no requirement for past training, though we prefer participants to have volunteered in some ministry or mission for at least 12 months in some capacity, preferably with children and families or youth. The internship has been developed for 18 – 25 year olds but is open to all. For those under the age of 18, there will be some additional application requirements.

Applicants are required to have a current and valid Working With Children Check.

WHO MIGHT GET INVOLVED?

	Aaron has been volunteering at a local secondary college as part of a breakfast club team and is thrilled to have the opportunity to serve the students, families and staff – despite the common narrative that public schools are closed to Christians. This internship will help him develop a greater sense of ownership of the program and understand the strategies behind it and the opportunities ahead of it. He will be exposed to other models and networks beyond his own school and church and will consider using these things to help initiate a new program within the school. The internship will give him a solid foundation of training, without requiring him to take on formal academic study and the intensity of reading and writing that comes with it. He will eventually move into a community development role in the local council to broaden the impact of these programs even further.
	Bronte is now in her 3rd year of a Bachelor of Education (early years) at a Uni in Melbourne. She has volunteered in the Sunday morning Kids Church for a couple of years at her local Melbourne church. She is super passionate about pre-school ministry and wants more experience in the field, along with some theological training to support her secular education. She has taken on a placement in her church which will expand her role to include some planning, extra communications with parents and generally a greater sense of ownership and confidence. She will also support the Generations Pastor to develop a new pre-school outreach in her 1½ day per week role, alongside her continuing uni studies.
	Charlotte has long known that she's heading to Bible College and will spend her life in formal ministry, but she wants to enjoy one more year living in regional Victoria before moving into Melbourne for her study. While she works a part time job to save up the cash for her move, she will take on a 1 day per week position in her local church to work alongside the Youth Minister and get a taste for what vocational ministry actually involves. Her ministry project will be something at the local skate park, but she's not sure what that will look like yet and is looking forward to learning some strategies for community development and mission principles – and she'll carry these things into the rest of her ministry life too.
	David is a 19 year old Melbournian without a plan. He has deferred a Bachelor of Communication and is feeling that it's time for a gap year to discern where God is calling him. Alongside his part time jobs delivering take away, selling electricity contracts and doing some admin for his mum's pastry business, he's decided to take on an internship with SU. He's looking forward to journeying with the cohort of other interns and getting a better understanding of the Bible, setting up some good habits and spiritual disciplines for himself and investing in the children at the local primary school in whatever way he can.

OFF-RAMPS

Participation in this internship could lead to:

- Continuing to volunteer with your church/ministry with greater leadership and responsibility, or employment if there is an opportunity available
- Chaplaincy roles
- Work in schools, local council, community development or in another ministry organisation
- Volunteering in a leadership capacity with SU camps and missions.
- Formal academic studies and training at Bible College.

The internship has... broadened my horizons as I consider both my own walk with God, and how that relates to the ways I can serve in ministry. I've been getting closer to a few young guys that have dismissed faith in the past, and they're starting to ask the sort of questions that just make you so excited!

Jack Beamish, 2019 Intern

ACCREDITATION

SU Victoria has partnered with tertiary providers in the past, such as Box Hill Institute and RMIT, to deliver placement for the Cert IV & Diploma of Youth Work, Community Service and other courses. If you are thinking of studying formally, an SU internship offers both the practical experience of a placement alongside skilled practitioners and a space to reflect with peers on effective practice and issues that arise. This combination brings the course to life and develops essential skills and critical thought for effective ministry. Please speak with us if you are interested in working towards accreditation and we can discuss the options with you, based on your choice of placement and focus.

All participants will receive a certificate from SU at the end of the year with details of the theory, practice, assignments and content covered. A course coordinator will be happy to be a referee in applications for future work or study.

WHO IS INVOLVED?

SUPERVISOR

Acts on behalf of the placement and is involved in the application process along with the intern. The supervisor directly supports the intern's learning and experience, meets with them regularly about their responsibilities and guides the action/reflection cycle.

MENTOR

Is found by the intern, probably someone from their own church but preferably not involved in the same ministry as the intern. The mentor is more interested in the intern's personal journey, holds them accountable in their spiritual practices and relationships.

CHEERERS

Found by SU and play a less formal role, holding the interns in prayer, hearing how things are going. They are from different churches and traditions, they help to expand the vision of the interns by coming, generation and experience. They connect into the broader SU family and most importantly: they cheer!

HUB COORDINATOR

For those outside of metro Melbourne, the hub coordinator convenes the monthly regional gathering of interns in your area and facilitates the training on those days, in consultation with the central program coordinators.

Further information and training will be available for the Supervisor, Mentor, Cheerer and Hub Coordinator roles.

PLACEMENT CONFIGURATIONS

There are lots of ways that your internship might be pieced together. Placements can be in a church or a school or other SU ministry program. Focus can be on children and families, or youth/teenagers. Location can be anywhere in Australia.

FINANCES

What	Who	Cost
Facilitating the program, trainers and presenters	Covered by SU Australia
Training days	Covered by participant *	$500
Intensives (accommodation & food)	SU can assist you in raising these funds (or, optionally subsidised by your church)
Books and articles
Honorarium to the intern (where appropriate) 	Covered by church 	$1200 recommended minimum for 8hrs/wk in a church context
Participating in an SU program	Covered by participant (or, optionally subsidised by your church)	Up to max $300

* If studying for accreditation, you may be eligible for Youth Allowance, Austudy or Abstudy. You need to go to the Centrelink website (www.centrelink.gov.au) to check these.

** Churches are strongly encouraged to gift an honorarium to their intern, perhaps in a few instalments through the year, to help symbolise that the internship is a gift and investment into an emerging leader – rather than payment for a service or free admin support. In other placements and contexts, this honorarium may not be possible or appropriate. Please contact us to discuss further or for help and strategies in raising support and finding financial partners to assist with this.

Right from the beginning the internship has been a journey of inspiration, new experiences, new people and an extending of my comfort zones! Not only have I gained wisdom and understanding into the world of youth work but I have also been challenged to take a stand and become a greater ambassador for Jesus. This internship has fuelled my love for people and my longing to serve them as Jesus did.

Lynley Boyle, graduate intern

MINISTRY PROJECT

Through the year, each intern may choose to develop a ministry project in consultation with their supervisor. This might be a new initiative that emerges from the content they are hearing, the development of an idea that has already been floating around the team, or a specific passion the intern brings with them. It is important that both the intern and their supervisor agree on – and are energised by – the project, and that it reasonably fits within their agreed ministry time.

Some ideas for potential ministry projects include:

- Start a new group
  - In a local school
  - An after school club
- Develop a new partnership
  - Between a local church and school
  - With local businesses
- Messy Church
- Put on a show or event
  - Christmas Story walk-through
  - Celebration day / carnival
- A Holiday Program
- Get involved with playgroup or English Conversation Classes
  - Develop a new initiative within the existing program
- A new responsibility within your school's welfare team
- Reworking part of an existing ongoing program or service

It's possible for the ministry project to commence at the beginning of the internship year, but it's not expected. The content of the course and exposure to new ideas and ministries will likely support the development of a new idea during the year, so it might happen mid-year or even next December. Part of the course content is around planning events and programs, setting goals and strategies and forming a team – all things which will make the ministry project easier as time goes along.
