

Well, Well, Well...

Woman at the Well

John 4: 4-13, 25-35, 39-42

Well, well, well.

This well is just outside a village.

Early this morning
all of the girls of the village were here.
They brought their big jars,
giggling and gossiping
and getting their water for the day.

But in the middle of the day, the sun is blazing and no one is here.

It is way too hot to be out at this time.

Well ... well ... well.

So I guess that's it. That's the end of our ...

No, wait a minute!
Some one is here
at the well.
It's Jesus.
Well, well, well.
Doesn't he turn up
in the strangest
places?
Looks like he's thirsty,
but he has no big jar
to get water
from the well.
So ... I guess that's it.

No -- wait a minute.
Someone else is here at the well.
It's a woman.

Well, well, well.

The woman is here in the blazing sun because if she comes in the morning, the other girls giggle and gossip and shake their heads and say,
“Well! Well! Well!”

Who knows why? They just do.
So she doesn't come at the same time as they do. Who knows why?
Well, Jesus does.

Jesus knows,
well, he knows
everything about this woman.
Everything that has happened before
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, husbands
Well,
well,
well,
well,
well!
And about her life
now.

And he knows that she wants water
But even more than wanting water
She wants to know God.
Well, well, well.
Jesus tells her,
“You can know
God
if you know me.”

Well, well, well.
What does she do now?
The woman runs off into the town.
She giggles and she gossips to all the girls and the guys
to come and meet Jesus by the well.

“Why? What is he like? Who is he?”

“Well ... “

she says.

“Come and see for yourself.”
